

Scanned Sept. 9, 1985

Obituaries

Olive L. Hall

Olive L. (Hamblett) Hall, 88, of Adams St., Littleton, died Monday, September 9, 1985 at her son's residence in Lawrence.

She was born in Pelham, N.H., October 19, 1896, the daughter of the late Joseph and Hattie Hamblett, and was the wife of the late David Hall who died in 1966.

She spent her early life in Pelham and Keene, N.H., and attended school there. She moved to Lowell in her teens and worked as a spinner in various textile mills, such as Mohair Plush Co., of Lowell, and United Elastics Corp. of Littleton.

After her marriage in 1927, she resided in Littleton until recently moving to her son's home.

She was a member of the King's Daughters and the First Church Unitarian of Littleton.

She is survived by her son, David L. Hall of Lawrence; a brother, Everett Hamblett of Hudson, N.H.; five granddaughters, Donna, Bonnie, Nancy, Pamela and Cynthia Hall; also, several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at the Badger Funeral Home, Rte. 2A-110, Littleton, on September 11. Burial was in Westlawn Cemetery, Littleton. Funeral Directors were William A. Badger and Sons.