

THE DEATH of Etta, wife of W. L. Kimball, on Saturday, Nov. 5, adds one more to the line of patient sufferers who have uncomplainingly borne the weight of pain and hopeless longing for health and passed on without one single murmur.

Until about four years ago she enjoyed comparative health, but since that time her decline has been gradual, brightened at times with more favorable symptoms that brought to her friends some little degree of hope. The past year her frailty has been such that no one could be deceived. The end came very suddenly at the last on Saturday morning. Less than half an hour previous she rose from her bed unassisted and talked with her husband concerning plans they were much interested in. A sweeter, truer soul never existed, or one more self-forgetful when the interests of others conflicted with her own. She accepted her share of the ills of life with a degree of patience and fortitude that was more than ordinary.

She possessed a very bright mind, and when in health contributed to the intellectual life of the old town.

To her friends her warm-hearted friendliness and interest will be a precious memory. Mrs. Kimball was the youngest child of Marshall N. and Mary A. Bruce and her entire life has been spent in this town. She was a member of the woman's club and forget-not circle of K.D.

The funeral at her late home on Tuesday afternoon was largely attended by relatives, neighbors and friends. She was surrounded by very many beautiful flowers, fit setting for the calm and beautiful face. Rev. J. F. Malick, conducted the funeral services, Mrs. J. M. Hartwell and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Priest gave "Lead, kindly light," "Naomi" and "Abide with me." The interment was at Westlawn cemetery in their new family lot.

Mrs. Kimball is survived by husband, two sons and one daughter, and two sisters—Mrs. Ferdinand Wyman of Hyde Park and Miss Jennie Bruce.
