Attending Brockton High, which was a big football school, "Uncle Louie" learned to love the sport but was too small to play. He compensated, however, by boosting "his" teams for the rest of his life.

"When I was in football and baseball," said Ken White, "he never missed a game. I knew him in Waltham. Then when I moved here 30 years ago, gosh, there was Louie! He wasn't just a friend, he was loyal to everything he believed in, a nice guy."

Stoffel was vocal in his support of the football team at Littleton High School, rarely missing a game and always predicting the score ahead of time. Beyond attendance at the events, he presented one athlete with a scrapbook of newspaper clippings after a particularly successful season.

"He was a great supporter of the sport teams and the band for many years," noted Barbara Whitcomb of the Littleton Sports Boosters. "Everybody waited for his prediction. Last year at the senior sports awards, 'Uncle Louie' was named the first recipient of the Tiger of the Year Award. Hearing of his death, we're glad he was the first choice. He was a super supporter of the program."

An active participant at Town Meeting for many years, Stoffel was noted for his passion and his sense of humor.

"When he thought something, he said it, good or bad," remembered Russell Lawrence, who also served with Louis for years on the Democratic Town Committee. "He helped organize the regional Nashoba Democratic Committee." Stoffel also worked to increase the real estate tax exemption for elderly people when the Legislature mandated all properties be assessed at full value.

With Lennie Fougsted, Albert Pickard and Lennie Kress, Louis played cribbage every Friday night.

"His mission in life was to be a friend to everyone. I'm going to miss Louie," said White.

Stoffel is survived by his wife Pauline of Littleton; a son Michael E. Stoffel of Pepperell; daughters Mrs. William (Sheila) Lauer of E. Granby, CT., and Mrs. Lt. William (Linda) Graves of Huntsville, AL; a brother, Fred Stoffel of Upton, and nine grandchildren.

A funeral Mass was held at St. Anne's in Littleton on Wednesday at 10 a.m. Burial was at Westlawn Cemetery, Littleton.
