

Flourine (Robinson) McKenney Sprague, 89, a resident of Acton, died peacefully Wednesday, February 22, 2012 at Emerson Hospital in Concord. Born and raised in Cumberland, MD, she was the second youngest of eight children. She was married for thirty five years to the late Harold E. McKenney who died in July of 1981. Ten years later, she married the late Walter Sprague, after meeting at church. The Spragues were married for nineteen years before Walter's death in 2010.

Mrs. Sprague especially enjoyed the holidays. She often dressed up in costumes and enjoyed entertaining family and friends. Mrs. Sprague was employed by the Concord Meal Site where she was a manager. She was also involved with the Acton Historical Society as well as the Acton Women's Club.

She is survived by two daughters, Alice Flourine Ames and her husband Ken of Washington. Barbara A. Head and husband James of Littleton. Five grandchildren: Ken Ames, Jeff Legere, Diane Legere, Keith Ames, and Beth Head. Mrs. Sprague is also survived by her two great-grandchildren Andrea and Cassie Ames.

Relatives and friends are invited to visiting hours on Saturday February 25, 2012 from 3-5pm at the Acton Funeral Home, 470 Mass Ave (Rte 111) Acton. Those who wish may make memorial contributions to the American Heart Association 20 Speen Street Framingham, MA 01701.