

Edward V. Sarcione Jr.

WELLS — Edward V. Sarcione Jr., 73, of Wells, died Sunday, May 1, 2011, of leukemia (AML) and complications from a fall.

He was proud to have served in the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Salem for four years, and for two years in the reserve.

He worked his way up to become print officer in Boston in the GSA division. He served 35 years and in retirement he was a beach attendant on Mile Road in Wells, and at the jetty on Drakes Island.

He leaves behind a wife; three stepchildren; and seven grandchildren.