

Shirley G. Bailey

Shirley G. Bailey, 67, of 20 Wan-nalancit Trail, Littleton, died peacefully in her sleep at her home on Wednesday, Feb. 2, 2000, following a lengthy battle with emphysema. She is survived by her husband, Reginald Bailey.

She was born in Montreal on June 22, 1932, the daughter of

Shirley G. Bailey

Pauline and Roy Wilde. She immigrated to Binghamton, N.Y., in 1954 and had spent the last 40 years in Littleton.

Mrs. Bailey worked for 23 years in several plants of the Digital Equipment Corp., and during that time received awards for her significant contributions.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three children, Linda Knight of Redmond, Wash., Steven R. Bailey, of Hollis, N.H., and Karen Buretta of Brookline, N.H.; a grandchild, Devon Buretta of Brookline; a sister, Betty McDermott of Brewster, N.Y.; and four brothers, all of whom reside in the Toronto area.

A memorial service was conducted by the Rev. Debbie Blanchard of the First Baptist Church of Littleton on Feb. 5, 2000, at Badger's Funeral Home, Littleton. Mrs. Bailey's cremated remains will be buried in Westlawn Cemetery, Littleton, during a ceremony in April.
